Maximize Production and Reduce Errors

The Orion+ is a new kind of digital level, perfect for any leveling or elevation job. Using technology typically found on high-precision surveying instruments, its easy “point-and-shoot” electronic design eliminates guesswork and potential errors. By reading the bar code on an elevation rod, Orion+ never makes a mistake. High-accuracy height and distance measurements are displayed on its large, high-contrast LCD panel. Human error is eliminated, improving both productivity and quality on every job!

Orion Auto Level

Need an easy to use optical level? 2LS has that covered too! The standard Orion features 24-power optics, a rugged design, and environmentally sealed housing.
